 Irene	Well, I think that different people travel for different reasons. But the main reason, I believe, is to experience a different way of life. Personally for me, travelling is a good chance to learn about foreign cultures and customs. What's more, travelling enables me to see the historical places I've heard so much about.
 Nataly	Travelling? I think it's pleasant! For me, travelling means rest. If I get tired of all I have, I'll go to a place where nobody can find me. There I can get rid of all the problems and troubles. Why not take a chance to enjoy freedom and be yourself? All you need is just the sandy beach and peaceful ocean.
 Steve	People travel for many reasons. Some for rest, others for sightseeing, still others for jobs. I am an interpreter (口译者). I need to help my boss communicate with foreigners. That's why I mostly travel for business. Travelling is a part of my job. I would say that I hate travelling. It takes too much time and effort. I have to leave my family for months because I often get some business trips. Although I am lucky to have the chance to visit well-known historical places, I am too tired to go anywhere. Meetings and discussions are so tiring.
 Mark	In my opinion, travelling is wonderful. New places, foreign countries, unknown people, different traditions ... It is so exciting! There are lots of things to talk about, plenty of stories to tell and much experience to share. I know some people say that I just travel to brag because I tell everybody about hundreds of places I've visited. So what? I like to talk about it. I am the best!

After a long day, Zhang Tian finally got back to his small room, feeling tired. He had to prepare his lessons for the following day. This is a(n) _____ 65 _____ day for Zhang Tian. He had been teaching in Guizhou Province for quite a few months.

Zhang Tian graduated from university last year. His parents hoped he would go to a big city to find a teaching job. _____ 66 _____ , Zhang Tian wanted to start a new lifestyle. His teachers told him to go and teach where he was needed most. For that reason he became a volunteer teacher in a village school.

But not everything lived up to Zhang Tian's hopes. The school was much smaller than he had imagined. Living in the village was also a _____ 67 _____. He could only shower every four days, and he had to learn how to cook. The thought of leaving once flashed through his mind, but he quickly gave up on the idea.

The school had just three teachers and Zhang Tian was the only English teacher. The two local teachers were responsible for maths and Chinese. To make school life more _____ 68 _____ for his students, Zhang Tian added more subjects — music, art and PE. PE is certainly the kids' favourite subject! The playground is now full of laughter and music.

Zhang Tian's first year is almost over. He has enjoyed working with the children. What made him feel good was that his students were able to read, speak and write in English, and they became more confident in learning. Zhang Tian also brought _____ 69 _____ to the village. He contacted charity organizations about rebuilding the playground and setting up a library, and helped the villagers sell local products online. His efforts made him very popular among the villagers. The village is like his second home now. He had only planned to stay for one year, but now he feels ready to stay for another year. He feels so happy that he followed his heart when he chose what to do with his life, although it may not be what others _____ .

D. Answer the questions (根据以下内容回答问题) (12 分)

Police in America have stepped up their search for a fifteen-year-old boy who went missing three days ago in Dover, New Hampshire. This case has received great interest because it is said that aliens visited when the boy disappeared.

Justin Foster, a high school student, was last seen on Friday night. That evening at 8 p.m., Justin's friends called him to play baseball. Witnesses(目击者) say they saw Justin walking towards his house at 10:45 p.m. Justin's sister, Kelly, says she heard her brother return home at about 11 p.m., but she didn't see him with her own eyes.

"I was on bed at that time. Suddenly I was woken up at midnight by a bright light outside my window." Kelly said.

"I pulled back the curtains and saw a large spaceship flying outside. It had blue lights all around it. Standing inside were lots of aliens. I was frightened!"

Kelly said that the spaceship then moved towards her brother's bedroom. "There was a flash of light and I heard Justin shout, and then the UFO just disappeared. I'm sure the aliens took him away."

Kelly then ran and woke up her mother. However, Mrs Foster thought that Kelly was having a bad dream, so she sent her back to bed. Mr Foster was not home that night. When Justin did not show up for lunch the next day, Mrs Foster became worried and told her husband to call the police.

Some people in Dover also say that they saw aliens that night. "It's happened to me!" said Mrs Smith. "The aliens took me aboard the UFO for research. Luckily, they sent me home without any injuries. The whole experience was terrible! I haven't been sleeping well since I returned home. I think Justin was taken away by them, too."

When asked about whether Justin was taken by aliens, Detective Peterson, who has taken charge of the case, told reporters. "Sometimes people make up stories. There's really no hard proof that aliens took him. So we are looking into other possibilities as well. We will not give up until we find out what happened."

78. The case has received great interest, hasn't it?

79. What time was Justin last seen on Friday night?

80. Where did Justin disappear according to Kelly?

81. What did Mrs Foster think of Kelly's words at first?

2. Who else was taken away by the aliens?

83. What kind of person was Detective Peterson? Why do you think so?

John is a student in No.2 Middle School. There is a radio club run by the students for the school. John is lucky as he is one of the hosts. It was started two years ago. One day, the hosts met to talk about what programmes could be broadcasted. John just thought about music for everyone. The others all agreed with him. So he asked the headmaster if music could be played at break. The headmaster agreed on the idea. Later John was in charge of the radio club as the oldest student member.

Now their club is much more than just music. It also provides some information. Every morning they tell their schoolmates about the weather, recent news, and some special messages. At the end of the school year, many students who are graduating use their club to give messages to their close friends and teachers. When parents come to visit the school, they can hear songs sung by students, and know about messages about school events.

John will miss the radio club after leaving school, but he knows that it will continue without him.

Jenny and Danny are outside the library. They have just finished doing some research. Danny: It's hard to believe movies are just over 100 years old.

Jenny: Yes. But like the Internet or other similar technologies, movies have had such a big effect on us.

Danny: I love watching movies. A movie is really an amazing piece of art and technology. I just found out the very first movies were made in France and Germany.

Jenny: That's true. When movies were first created, they were not in colour. Do you know that for those first movies, only a couple of people would act in front of the camera?

Danny: Wow, that's interesting! Movie making is quite different these days. Thousands of people can take part in movie making. And some movies, like Avatar, can take years to make and cost a lot of money.

Jenny: Do you like Avatar, Danny?

Danny: Yes. I like adventure movies. They take people on a journey, to escape life or explore it.

Jenny: I like comedies which make people laugh and feel happy. I especially like Charlie Chaplin's movies. He was a great actor. I also like cartoons.

Danny: It's wonderful to watch a great movie! I haven't watched a movie for a long time. I hear

The Battle at Lake Changjin is on. Why not go and see it this weekend? Jenny: It sounds perfect!
