"I enjoyed myself very much. We planted nine Tembusu trees around the neighbourhood. I learnt that there is a tree of this type right in the Botanic Gardens. It is over 150 years old. It only flowers twice a year, with a special fragrance."

— Joyce

"Getting children to plant trees was a good way for them to experience the joy of gardening. During the tree-planting event, we even got a chance to take some vegetables home to grow and share with our children."

— Annie

"We planted more trees with the help of the residents (居民). It was good to have more trees in the neighbourhood where residents could get together to enjoy themselves and relax with their families and friends in the shade. Last year's Tree Planting Day was special for residents as they got to take plants back to grow as a reminder of the event."

— Phoebe

B. Choose the best answer and complete the passage (选择最恰当的选项完成短文) (12 分)

Picture this: You wake up in the morning. A soft light turns on in your room. You go into the bathroom and the shower starts. The 65 is the perfect temperature. After your shower, you go into the kitchen. Your favourite breakfast is already cooked. Now it's time to go to work. It's a rainy day. You live 66, but you find that your umbrella and hat are already by the door. How is all this possible? Welcome to your future life!

APPLIANCES THAT TALK

Technology will allow homes in the future to be "smart". Appliances will 67 each other – and with you. Your stove will tell you when your food is cooked and ready to eat. Refrigerators will suggest menu and recipes based on food items you already have.

HOUSES THAT THINK

Are you 68 the color or pattern of your walls? In a smart home, you won't have to repaint them. The walls will actually be digital screens, like computer or TV screens.

A computer network will link these walls with everything else in your house. This technology controls your entire house. Your house can learn about your likes and dislikes. It will then use that knowledge to control the environment. 69, it will set the heat in the house to your favourite temperature. It will turn on the shower at the right heat. It will also darken the windows at night and lighten them when it's time to wake up.

ROBOTS THAT 70 ?

But how about your cooked breakfast, and the umbrella and hat you found by the door? For those, you can thank your robot helper. Scientists today are starting to build friendlier, more intelligent robots.

Sociable robots will be able to show feelings with their faces, just like humans. They will smile, frown and make eye contact. These robots will do work around the house. Hopefully they will even take care of children and the elderly.

How soon will this smart home be a reality? There's a good chance it will be a part of your life in the next 10 years, perhaps sooner.

C. Fill in the blanks with proper words (在短文的空格内填入适当的词, 使其通顺。每空格限填一词, 首字母已给) (14 分)

We all love travelling to other countries, but how much do we really learn about the places we visit? We enjoy the nice v 71 from our hotel room, we look up our guidebook and visit the popular tourist spots, then we return home with happy memories and hundreds of photos! But what's it l 72 to live and study in another country?

Gina Rossi decided to spend a year in the USA as an exchange student. She knew the language would be difficult at first and she knew she would m 73 her family and friends back home, but she wanted to experience the real America.

Gina stayed with a family in Mead, Colorado. 'I didn't want to go to a c 74,' she says. Mead is a fairly small town, so it was ideal for her. What was the first thing that she noticed in America? 'Everything was bigger,' she says. 'The houses, the schools, the shops.' Gina found school life difficult at first. The classes in most high schools are very big. You have to be quite i 75 and do almost everything on your own. And of course, everything was in English. But the teachers were excellent and the students were all really friendly. 'They soon made me feel at home,' she says. Did anything s 76 her? 'I was expecting the food to be terrible,' she says. 'But the family I stayed with enjoyed cooking, so in fact, it was really nice. In the summer, when the weather was hot, we had a lot of barbecues – I liked those.'

Gina now says that living in a place, rather than visiting as a tourist, is the only way to experience the culture of another country. And her a 77 for others? 'If you decide to go on an exchange, you should join in with everything to make the most of the experience.' Gina even joined in as a cheerleader for a high school football game – but only once!

D. Answer the questions (根据短文内容回答下列问题) (12 分)

Ellie 25 October 7.42 p.m. A few weeks ago a school inspector observed my class. I gave him my chair and he went to the back of the classroom. I was really nervous but my students were great: they weren't noisy, they paid attention, they didn't shout and they put their hands up to ask questions. After a while I asked them to do some pair work and I sat down. Unfortunately, I forgot my chair wasn't in its usual place and I fell on the floor! Peter 25 October 7.55 p.m. Did you hurt yourself? Ellie 25 October 7.56 p.m. No, I didn't. I was a little embarrassed but I wasn't hurt.
Jill 25 October 8.15 p.m. My year 6 class did some projects last month. I told them their posters were fantastic and I wanted to put them up on the wall, so I took some drawing pins and stood on my chair. But the chair had wheels. It started to move. My pupils watched in silence as I rode my chair across the room. Ellie 25 October 8.33 p.m. Were you OK? Jill 25 October 8.36 p.m. Yes, I was. I didn't fall. I got down from the chair and then I told the kids it was OK to laugh.	Chris 25 October 8.44 p.m. Yesterday my last class was in the laboratory on the third floor. I handed out a worksheet to my students but then I saw a fly on the window. I picked up a textbook and tried to hit the fly. I missed it but I hit the window and it broke. Just then the headteacher walked into the room. Peter 25 October 8.52 p.m. What did he say? Chris 25 October 8.58 p.m. He didn't say anything but he wasn't very happy.
